THE GOOD SAMARITAN

When Jesus Christ was on earth, he told a story which has a close application to life in Florida today. He told how a man was attacked by robbers, and left half dead by the roadside. Two officials of the man's country saw him, but passed him by on the other side, and did nothing for him. A Samaritan, a citizen of a country despised in those parts, took pity on him. He took the wounded man to an inn, and provided generously for his care. The hearers of this story were told to go and do likewise.

The calls for help today are not as obvious as they were in those old times. We go through our streets and almost never see anybody lying half dead by the roadside.

Millions of people are suffering from

TOO LATE TO CLASSIFY

By Russell Kay.

After reviewing my "Gal Friday" column of last week, I've about concluded that it is a waste of time for me to be struggling with a column and annoying my customers with my puny efforts when she can do so much better. What she said about the Kay family being in a position to really appreciate Two Thanksgivings is indeed true and we are mighty thankful to have come through the experience as well as we did. This business of turning double superlatives in an automobile is not all it's cracked up to be, even if it is plenty "cracked up."

Since Jeanette gave you a pretty, accurate description of the wreck, I'll not go into that—going through it is enough! Anyway, I'm back in circulation again with only a few cuts and bruises and while Mrs. Kay is still in the hospital with a bone splinter that she had to mend before she can do and "repper" out, I'm happy to report that she is resting comfortably and making progress toward recovery.

Both of us are truly grateful for the hundreds of phone calls, telegrams, letters, flowers and gifts that have poured in from all over the state. Certainly no one ever has more loyal or thoughtful friends. It hasn't been possible for us to personally acknowledge these many expressions of cheer and friendship as yet and so this column must serve that end until the misfortunes of life, and frequently go unrelieved. The suffering people located in the back streets of cities and towns, or remote country places, and their plight is often forgotten and neglected.

The function of caring for these unfortunate folks is undertaken by many charitable and philanthropic societies. Yet the calls on them are so enormous, that they do not begin to have the money enough to care for all these unfortunate.

The American Red Cross performs this service on a great scale, but the need for aid is so tremendous that it cannot begin to render help to all who need it. It carries on educational work covering the whole country so far as possible, which helps people to avoid sickness and accident. It administered relief last year to 166,000 families suffering from floods and other disasters.

This superb organization is holding its annual roll call and canvass for members closing its drive Thanksgiving Day. It could well use 10 times as much money as it can possibly get, in works of charity that would relieve poverty and prevent suffering. The American people should give more generously.—Homestead News.

time permits a more personal reply. In spite of the blow-out patches in the plastered walls, the place was able to take advantage of an invitation from Senator Lottin to join his party for a ride on the Florida East Coast Railway's new streamliner, the "Henry M. Flagler," on its pre-inaugural run from Jacksonville to Miami.

And I want to tell you folks it is a peach of a train, modern and up-to-the minute in every respect. The splendid coach passengers' advantages and comforts beyond those found in Pullman trains and at fares that are ridiculously low.

Following christening ceremonies at the Jacksonville Terminal Station, about 200 invited guests boarded the train, which was assigned to a comfortable reclining seat in one of the luxurious all-steel coaches.

But assigning seats and keeping people in them was something else, for like a kid with a new toy, everyone wanted to inspect the train and folks began milling down the aisles before we had much more than taken off. The popular destination was the beautiful appointed "avern or club car where buffet lunches and drinks were served.

Just as inviting was the luxurious observation car, equal in every respect to the finest that Pullman has to offer. Among the dignitaries milling about, looking down the comfortable lounge chairs were Senator Lottin, Jerry Carter, Senator Jess Parrish, Mayor Walter Fraser, Harold Cole, Mayor Ev Sewell, and many others.

Beginning this month, daily service between New York and Florida will be maintained with these splendid new streamliners

Prices Still Good In Lake Bean Deal

The bean deal on the shores of Lake Okeechobee has been satisfactory to all concerned so far this fall, according to growers and brokers. During the past week between 65 and 75 cars went out by rail and about the same amount by trucks. The records at the Florida East Coast depot are kept by Mr. Reddick for this newspaper and two other interested concerns. In the past couple of weeks these records have become garbled in some manner and it is impossible to report the exact movement.

Tendergreens have been bringing from $3.25 to $3.75 with the majority selling from $1.50 to $1.60. Valentines have ranged in price from $1.50, $2.00 to $2.25. First car lot movement of peas this week brought $1.50 to $1.65. One car of peas sold for $1.70. These prices are considered satisfactory for peas, one farmer said.

Early Mailing Helps Postman Avoid Problem of Yule Rush

Public Always Waits Until Last Minute Despite Fearful Pleas.

It Christmas mailers didn't wait until the last minute with their cards and packages, post office officials predict the annual Yule rush would be minimized immensely. But despite fearful pleas each December, the bulk of holiday mail falls into post offices, less than seven days before Christmas. What the public really fears, say officials, is that their gifts will be delivered too soon before Christmas. As a result all too many gifts don't arrive until after Christmas! "Mail early," is the plea of the heavily burdened postmen below.

Nature's Yuletide Gift

From verdant forests throughout northern America, trees in grace the nation's Christmas morning are shipped each year. This picture was taken in Maine, where 1,500,000 trees are being felled for the holidays, to be loaded for shipment to all parts of the United States.

Will Study Plans For Co-Operative

Revival of plans for forming a big sugar cooperative in the Lake Okeechobee section is one of the first important results of the decision of Federal officials to remove all restrictions on sugar production in the United States.

Clarence R. Bittling, president of the United States Sugar Corporation, has issued an invitation to farmers who signed an agreement to join the proposed cooperative, to be his guests at dinner Friday evening at 8 o'clock at the Clewiston Inn.

It is expected that definite steps to proceed with the organization will be taken at that time.

Approximately 15,000 acres of cane land have been pledged to the cooperative by landowners in the Everglades section of Palm Beach county.

Should the project be carried to completion it would necessitate the erection of another sugar mill in that region to handle the increased crop, as the Clewiston mill is now running at almost full capacity. Palm Beach Times.
